

The 4th World Tribology Congress was held at the Kyoto International Conference Center in Kyoto.

11-Sep-09

The World Tribology Congress 2009 was held from Sunday 6th to Friday 11th September at Kyoto International Conference Center, where over 1,200 scientists and engineers participated from all over the world.

Tribology is "the science and technology of interacting surfaces in relative motion and of related subjects and practices." Dr. H. Peter Jost who created this word in 1966 also participated in the meeting. Extensive discussion was made on how tribology technology can contribute to the future earth. The exhibition at the Event Hall was open to general public and people not only from academic institutions and industry but also from neighboring areas.
